PEARL STEAM LAUNDRY BURNED

THE Piney River Lumber Company, of Ral-eigh C. H., was chartered yesterday. Ladies with seal skin sacks or satin cir-culars, for trimmed, do not object to this weather at all. Close Quarters of Some of the Boarders at the Hotel-Narrow Escape From a Fall-Essuit of Faulty Water Pluss.

Last night about 10:30 o'block as Messrs. J Wise Norton, Fred Huseman and Ton Shallcross were standing in front of the Pearl Steam Laundry, managed by Frank Woodmansee, and situated in the old Grant House building on Main street, just below House building on Main street, just below basement of the laundry, immediately followed by a column of fire. It seemed as write it, there was a slight explesion, that blew the front windows out, and through these openings thick clouds of smoke rolled, and the flimes shot half way across the payement. Mr. Huseman was out about the hands by the flying glass, and Mr. Norton was considerably singul. It was all so sudden that at first all those in the vicinity appeared to be paralyzed. Finally an alarm was turued in from box 21, and the Department responded in good time, but was slow in getting water on. The Hope reel attached in front of the burning building, but for fully four minutes was unable to open the plug on account of its rusty condition. The Vigilant engine atoned at the plug in front of Logan's drug store, but the brasses were bent, and it had to hunt other quarters. All this time should not have been lost. When the water did come there was too monto of it, and considerable damage was done to ceilings.

ORIGIN OF THE PLAMES, ETC.

ORIGIN OF THE FLAMES, ETC.

The fire, it is supposed, originated about the furnace of the lanndry, and communicating to the drying room got a big start. By the time water was turned on it had reached the top or third story. This building was a part of the old Grant House property, which was burned in 1877. That fire left these walls standing and, after Mr. Woodmansee started up again, what was let was patched up and very comfortable living rooms formed. Adjoining this on the south is a continuation of the building, owed by Hr. K. List, Eq., separated from the other by a fire wall and which was formerly and is now used as part of the hotel run by Lowis Woodmansee.

Mr. Woodmansee's patrons were all regular boarders, and the excitement among tem was intense. An immense crowd gathered and willing hands assisted the boarders to move their effects. Mr. Goo. Chew and wile, Miss Alice Oxtoby, Miss Magil s Mather and Messfa. C. B. Montgomery and Alt. Oxtoby had rooms in the burning part of the notel and barely had time to dress and get. out. Messra. Montgomery and Oxtoby being on the third floor, managed to save their effects Miss Alice Oxtoby, a teacher in the First ward school, jost her gold watch, a diamond ring and all her clothing. Miss Magile Mather, a aslessady in G. R. Taylor's dry goods store, lost her entire wardrobe. Mr. and Mrs. Chew lost all their valuables and a $450 plano they had had, but a month.

Mr. John Dickmen, one of the Eighth ward Councilman, is laid up for a few days on account of sickness.

Herr Bauer, proprietor of the Pittsburgh daily Volksblatt, was visiting Wheeling news-Rev. Dr. J. T. McLure, pastor of the U. P. Church of this city, was named as a candidate for Moderator of the General Assembly which convened at Pittsburgh yesterday.

Innates and bade but a month.

The other inmates of the house were W. G. Wilkinson and wife, W. A. Turner, Howard Hazlett, wife and two children, Fred Sturgeon, Lewis Woodmansee, wife and four sons. Mrs. Susannah Lewis, Messra. Oog and Hammond and eight servants. All of these moved their goods; and in so doing many little things were lost or broken, and the farniture scratched.

About half an hour after the fire started, the roof of the List butlding caught, end in putting that blaze out, the firemen got their streams under the roof of the old part, which by this time was nearly gatted, and the force of the water raised its little. As it did this the front wall fell into the street with a crash, and three or four men narrowiy escaped with their lives.

The laundry had been recently flitted up, and the loss there will be about $400, with no insurance. The books and considerable clothing were destroyed. The new washer and patent ironer were not much injured, whice accounts for the small loss. The burned property was in litigation, as it has been since soon after the fire of 1877. There was no insurance on it and the loss is probably not over $500. The List pre-priv was insured in the Collier agency for between $4000 and $5,000, and the loss amounts to only about $100.

Chairman Hoffman was on hand, as well

$4.000 and $5.000, and the lois amounts to only about $100. Chairman Hoffman was on hand, as well as several other Councilmen, and they did good work. There was, however, too much confusion among the workers, and this was commented on by the speciators. A man named McGinnis, who keeps a fruit stand just north of the laundry, lost a big lot of strawberries, and was cut on the head by a falling brick. The sudden turning off of water at the cut off nozzle resulted in breaking the water main at the corner of Main and Eleventh streets.

Main and Eleventh streets.

THE FORMER FIRE.

Last night's fire will naturally recall to the minds of nearly every person in the city, the big fire that occurred in March, 1877, and which totally destroyed that large four story structure known as the New Grant House, with the exception of the part that was destroyed lest night, and which was part of the old structure or old Grant House, and formed the Main street front. The 1877 fire was discovered between 3:30 and 4 a. m., in the stable in the rear, fronting on Market Square. It was bitter cold and a strong wind was blowing at the time. The hotel went like tinder. It was a shell like structure with lath partitions and built in an "L" shape, with norches running along each story in the inside of the "L." The stable filled up a part of the "L" and sat free to the porches. While the department was fighting in the rear, the roof in front caught, and then all attention had to be turned to surrounding property. The property was worth $50.000 or so and was heavily mortgaged.

The cause was alleged to be incendiary.
